A few days ago Lagori, Bangalore based band was looking for some fun outfit ideas for their gigs. We decided to touch base with Breakbounce. They sent over a couple of t-shirts and a smart pair of fitted khakis. I did a fun shoot with them in mayflower covered Cubbon Park.

The makers of casual street menswear clothing. Nothing can be more vexing than shopping with most men. Breakbounce is about to make this task a little bit easier with their colorful and young collection. Interesting detailing coupled with good quality is how I would describe the collection. One of the few brands to have incorporated colors quite well that men will not shy away from. Tees, well fitted trousers, shorts and shirts they have them all. The spring summer collection should be out soon on Myntra, stalk their Breakbounce website for more.
